FEB MEMBERSHIP

- A. Federal Executive Board members are designated by the heads of their respective Agency, and are the highest officials of the Federal Government who are located in the metropolitan area for which the FEB is responsible. These officials constitute the official membership of the respective FEB's and since membership resides with the position, new incumbents of these positions automatically become Board members. Membership is limited to this level in order to insure adequate authority and to emphasize top management's responsibility for Board effectiveness.
- B. Each Board member will designate an alternate to participate in Board activities when the principal is unable to attend. The alternate should be the principal deputy of the Board member.
- C. Elected officers are the Chairman, Vice Chairman, and usually, members of a policy committee. The Chairman appoints standing and ad hoc committees to accomplish the work of the Board which may include additional Federal employees and frequently officials of other levels of Government and private groups.
- D. Administrative and clerical assistance will be provided by member agencies as the situation warrants.
